OVERVIEW

Telemedicine is a broad term used to describe an array of electronic communications between medical personnel and patients at different locations. It can also be referred to as telehealth. For purposes of this payment policy, “telemedicine services” shall mean healthcare services delivered by means of real time, two-way electronic audiovisual communications, which facilitate the assessment, diagnosis, treatment, and care management of a patient’s health care while such patient is at an originating site and the health-care provider is at a distant site, consistent with applicable state and federal laws and regulations.

Telephone services are healthcare services delivered by way of audio only communication between a health-care provider at a distant site and the patient during a real-time or synchronous audio communication only.

While many healthcare services may be performed as telemedicine services, Blue Cross & Blue Shield of Rhode Island (BCBSRI) has determined that the services outlined in this policy are medically appropriate to either be provided via telemedicine or telephone only. This policy is intended to define BCBSRI payment policies and criteria for reimbursement for telemedicine and telephone only services.

This policy is applicable to Commercial Products. See related policies for telemedicine services for Medicare Advantage Plans.

- Home infusion
- Laboratory
- Pathology
- Pharmacy
- Public health/welfare agency/immunization providers

- Psychiatric hospital
- Skilled nursing facility
- Radiologists
- Renal/Dialysis facility
- Retail based clinic
- Rehabilitation hospital

The following services are excluded from reimbursement:

Services rendered by non-public electronic communication (that are not allowed for telephone only as outlined in this Policy) e.g., telemedicine provided through the following public facing video communication applications (Note: This is not an all-inclusive list):

- o Facebook Live
- o Twitch
- o TikTok

- The technical and overhead component of the facility fee associated with telemedicine/telephone services. Note: These costs are included in the maximum allowable benefit paid to the professional provider for professional telemedicine/telephone services and are not separately billed or reimbursed.
- Any services rendered over the telephone (audio-only) that are not specially allowed under this Policy.
- Any services rendered by email or by fax or other means not identified in this Policy.
- Telemedicine/Telephone services that occurs the same day as a face-to-face visit, when performed by the same provider and for the same condition.
- Services that consist of triage solely when a separately identifiable evaluation and management service doesn't occur to assess the appropriate place of service and/or appropriate provider type for a patient to seek and/or receive services.
- Patient communications incidental to E&M services, including, but not limited to: reporting of test results (including COVID-19), or provision of educational materials or contacting a patient in follow-up to a prior in-office, telephone or telemedicine visit for a "check in" where a separately identifiable evaluation and management service does not take place. This includes but is not limited to messages received and responded to via online patient portals or other electronic communication with a subscriber/member.
- Administrative matters, including but not limited to, scheduling, registration, updating billing information, reminders, requests for medication refills or referrals, ordering of diagnostic studies, and medical history intake completed by the patient.
- Any telemedicine or telephonic encounter conducted by office staff, RNs, LPNs, etc.
- Any proactive outreach to members who are not in active care by the provider for an acute or chronic condition that requires the intervention of the provider to limit or eliminate the exacerbation of a condition.

Note:

BCBSRI reserves the right to audit medical records as well as administrative records related to adherence to all the of this policy, e.g., to verify the nature of the services provided, the medical necessity and clinical appropriateness to provide such service via telemedicine and/or telephone as well the appropriateness of the level of evaluation and management coding. Documentation must contain the details of the provider-patient encounter. Special focus will be placed on a review to determine that a claim is not billed at a higher-level Evaluation & Management code/service when a lower level code/service is warranted. For Evaluation &

Management services which are coded based on time only, BCBSRI specifically requires the time spent during the visit be clearly documented in the medical record to substantiate the E & M code billed for that service.

COVERAGE

Benefits may vary between groups and contracts. Please refer to the appropriate Benefit Booklet, or Subscriber Agreement for applicable telemedicine/telephone services benefits/coverage.

Please note cost share can vary depending on whether the service is obtained from BCBSRI's designated web-based telemedicine service provider or a BCBSRI or BlueCard network provider.

If a BCBSRI member is receiving services from a provider outside of BCBSRI's network e.g., a BlueCard network provider in another state, the codes and service limitations in this policy do not apply.

REIMBURSEMENT

BCBSRI will reimburse telemedicine or telephone only services/encounters at 100% of the in-office allowable amount along with any applicable cost share amount, effective 1/1/2024 for any clinically appropriate, medically necessary covered health service.

Services performed by Advanced Practitioners will be reimbursed at a reduced proportion of the physician fee schedule as is the practice for in-office services.

BACKGROUND

Formally defined, telemedicine is the use of medical information exchanged from one site to another via electronic communications to improve a patient's clinical health status. Telemedicine includes a growing variety of applications and services using two-way video, smart phones, wireless tools, and other forms of audio-visual telecommunication's technology.

Starting out over 40 years ago with demonstrations of hospitals extending care to patients in remote areas, the use of telemedicine has spread rapidly and is now becoming integrated into the ongoing operations of hospitals, specialty departments, home health agencies, private physician offices, as well as consumers' homes and workplaces.

Telemedicine is not a separate medical specialty. Telemedicine can be provided by an array of physicians and other medical personnel including many different specialists. It is used as a tool to provide better access to patients where a physician may not be available due to such reasons as distance, wait for an appointment, or lack of geographic specialty access.

In 2016, the Rhode Island General Assembly enacted the Telemedicine Coverage Act, requiring health insurers to cover telemedicine services in all plans with effective dates of January 1, 2018 or later. Reference § 27-81-1 Title. This act shall be known as, and may be cited as, the "Telemedicine Coverage Act".

Effective 7/6/21, the Rhode Island's Telemedicine Coverage Act (RIGL 27-81) has been amended to include the use of real time, two-way synchronous audio, video, telephone-audio-only communications or electronic media or other telecommunication technology including, but not limited to: online adaptive interview, remote patient monitoring devices. Health insurers shall not impose a deductible, copayment, or coinsurance requirement for a healthcare service delivered through telemedicine in excess of what would normally be charged for the same healthcare service when performed in person. (Senate Bill No. 4 SUB B as amended & House Bill No. 6032 SUB A as amended).
